Introducing Chalet's Hard Hat Tours

Construction is progressing at Sabal's newest townhome project – Chalet, and owners are excited to take the first steps into their new homes. Starting June 12, Sabal is offering hard hat tours of the Chalet project.

“Hard hat tours give Chalet owners and those interested in a future purchase, the opportunity to physically step into the townhomes and get a sense of their space and layout,” says Kendra Milne, marketing manager for Sabal Homes. “Our potential and existing customers are very excited about being part of the construction process by getting a firsthand look at their new home.”

Located in the desirable southeast Calgary community of Copperfield, Chalet proved popular even before construction started, now with over 70% of the Phase 1 already sold. These homes feature a range of sizes from 1,313 to 1,460 square feet, most with double- or single-attached garages, standard laminate hardwood flooring, stainless steel appliances, two or three bedroom options and plenty of additional opportunities to personalize each home. The architectural styling of these townhomes is inspired by international Chalets from various mountainous regions – fitting perfectly to Calgary's own mountain inspired landscape.

“Homebuyers are excited about Chalet and we see that excitement grow as the townhomes are being built. A structure that buyers can walk through, truly adds to the buying experience,” explains Milne. Prices start in the $270,000s and possessions in 2010 are still available. Also, for a limited time, buyers will receive $5,000 to further personalize their home with options and upgrades.
